A FRIGHTFUL CRASH.

Freight Train Runs Into a Sleeping Car on the Cincinnati Southern Road-Seven Persons Injured.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 8 .- A sleeping car on the northbound limited express on the Cincinnati Southern road was run into by a Louisville & Nashville freight occurred at Junction City. The tracks of the two roads at this point cross each other at right angles. The Southern train had pulled across the Louisville &

Nashville track, but left the sleeper standing on the crossing. A L & N. freight got away from the engineer on the down grade and crashed into the sleeper, shattering the coach and injuring a number of passengers.

The injured are: B. N. Austin, assistant general passenger agent of the Northern Pacific railroad at St. Paul, Minn., legs crushed; W. T. Hardee, gen-eral freight agent of Savannah, Florida

E. D. Northrup, of Ellicottville, N. Y.

was a passenger in the wrecked sleeper.

He said he could not account for the es cape of anybody in the car. The engine crashed through it with such force that the whole car was in ruins in an in-stant and the sleeping passengers were thrown promisenously among the debris.

AUTUMN GALES.

Fierce Storms Raging in England and Ire-land—Enormous Damage to Property— Many Vessels Wreeked.

LONDON, Nov. 8 .- Violent gales and great floods prevail throughout Great Britain. Houses in all parts of the country have been unroofed, bridges swept away and wharves battered to pieces by rushing winds and sweeping waters. Many vessels plying in the coasting trade have been wrecked by the furiously driving winds and enormous seas which sweep the entire coast line with irresistible force. The storm rages with almost equal violence along the eastern coast of Ireland and a yacht cruising in Irish waters foundered in Belfast Loch. The owner of the craft, Lord Canteloupe, a Scottish nobleman, went down with his vessel. The greatest anxiety is felt by ship owners, commercial firms and insurance companies er, of Milwaukee.
